

The Racing Collectables Club of America (RCCA) hosted its first trackside Elite member event in Indianapolis on Saturday, July 26. A very intimate gathering of members at Bronze E-points status and above were on hand to enjoy a breakfast and greet with Motorsports Authentics President Mark Dyer and participated in a live broadcast of "NASCAR Collector" on Sirius Satellite Radio.

Immediately following the radio broadcast, the members held court in a private question and answer period with Tim Trout, Editor of Beckett Racing, and "Dr. Die-Cast" Howard Hitchcock.

Following the morning's activities, three Platinum E-points status members and their guests were treated to lunch at Brickyard Crossing Inn and a garage tour of Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Sirius "Morning Drive" host Mike Bagley entertained the group at lunch with stories from his tenure as a NASCAR reporter.

Mark Dyer guided the private garage tour and, along the way, members met noted NASCAR personalities Jimmie Johnson, driver of the No. 48 Lowes Chevrolet, his crew chief Chad Knaus and four-time Cup Champion Jeff Gordon.

The next RCCA trackside Elite member events will be held in Texas and Charlotte. Details will be provided soon, so check back often!
